

TUL-LOCK-CHISH-DO
("HE WHO DRINKS THE JUICE OF THE STONE") is a Choctaw ball player in full dress.

CHOCTAW BALL PLAY- THE BALL IS DOWN.

On the reverse, tell a story using the character and the scene. Try to make it a story worthy of a legend which explains how the Choctaw Indian above got his name.

EAGLE DANCE OF THE CHOCTAW

Pretend you are an observer of the Eagle Dance and make a list of details describing what you see in this image. Include information about what people are doing, how they are positioned, what they are wearing, and what seems to be happening. Then, on the reverse of this page, include a summary of what actually happens during the Eagle Dance and why.
