

Trees and Shrubs

Entry #:

Date:

Common name and Latin name (in parentheses and italics):

Height and crown description:

Habitat and geographic distribution:

Circle one of the following.

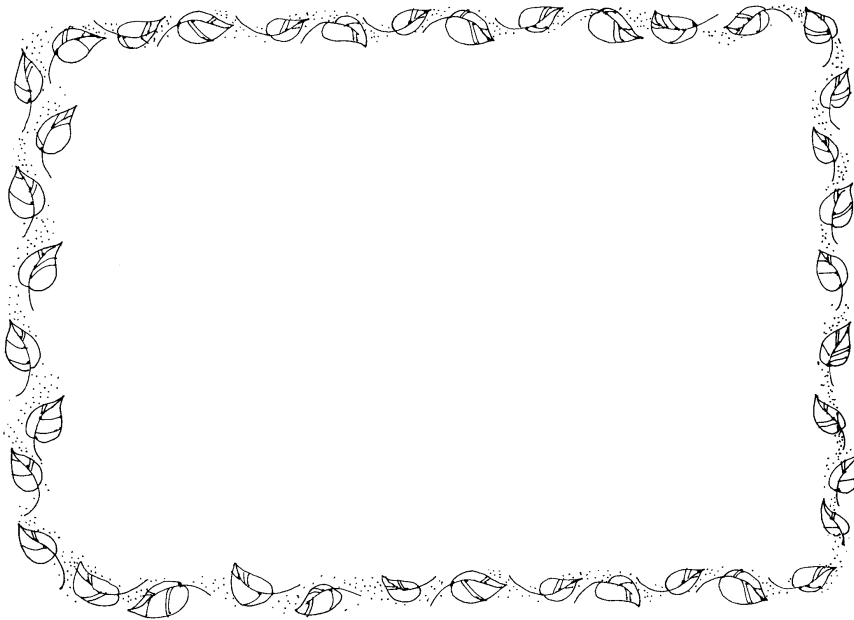

Deciduous or evergreen

Describe the fruit and fruiting season of this species:

Texture, coloring, and markings of bark:

Description of leaves or needles, including color, size, veining, and distribution:

Describe how this tree or shrub reproduces. Use the box to sketch a general cycle of reproduction.

Include notes in the margins describing each step.

Describe and explain the specific needs of birds who seek food or shelter from this species.

Describe and explain the specific needs of mammals who seek food or shelter from this species.

Is this a keystone species? Why or why not?

What is the conservation status of this species? If threatened, what poses a threat?

How do human beings use this tree or shrub? Why?

Additional notes and observations from time spent in the field:

Poetic impressions or words that come to mind:

Emotional connection to species:
